

I wrote all the functions in prog9.c and prog9.h to implement merging two WAV files into one file, including a low-pass filter function for extra credit. I did the above coding in one week for a course by reading documents given in class.